

CURRICULUM FOR MASTERS OF SCIENCE IN ACCOUNTING
10 COURSES - 30 CREDITS

REQUIRED COURSES

Accounting 712.	Advanced Financial Accounting Theory
Accounting 723.	Advanced Auditing Theory and Practice
Accounting 747.	Communications and Accountants
Accounting 748.	Advanced Accounting Information Systems (See Note 1)
Accounting 752.	Advanced Studies in Business Law (See Note 2)
Accounting 757.	Taxation of Business Entities
Accounting 773.	Government and Not-For-Profit Accounting and Auditing (See Note 3)
Economics 715.	Corporate Finance
Economics 721.	Econometrics (See Note 4)
Risk Management 706	(Formerly Econ. 703) Risk Transfer Insurance Markets

ELECTIVE COURSES

If you are exempt from one or more of the above required courses you must take one or more of the following substitutes:

PREFERRED

Accounting 707.	Contemporary Issues in Management Accounting
Accounting 758.	State and Local Taxation
Accounting 759.	Estate and Gift Taxation and Administration
Risk Management	Selected Courses

ACCEPTABLE

Computer Science 688.	Advanced Productivity Tools for Business
Economics 711.	Money and Capital Markets
Economics 750.	Industrial Organization and Control
Economics 770.	Urban Economics: Tools, Methodology, and Applications
History 774.	History of American Business
Philosophy 760.	Business Ethics
Political Sci (or US) 640.	Public Administration
Psychology 754.	Organizational Behavior Management
Sociology 716.	Professional Writing and Communication for Social Research
Sociology 728.	Sociology of Organizations and Industry
Urban Studies 727.	Public Management
Urban Studies 742.	Public Budgeting

Note 1 - Students who have successfully completed two or more undergraduate computer science/information systems courses are exempt from this requirement and may select an elective course.

Note 2 - Not open to students who have completed Accounting 363 (Business Law 3). Those students must select an elective course.

Note 3 - Not open to students who have completed Accounting 372. Those students must select an elective course.

Note 4 - Those students who have completed Economics 382 are exempt from this requirement and must select an elective course.